~ Prayer to Saint Michael ~

St. Michael the Archangel, defend us in battle.

Be our defense against the wickedness and snares of the Devil.

May God rebuke him, we humbly pray, and do thou, O Prince of the heavenly hosts, by the power of God, thrust into hell Satan, and all the evil spirits who prowl about the world seeking the ruin of souls. Amen.

Reflection by Rev. Leonard N. Peterson

Those among us who have had serious medical issues involving either demanding exams and/or surgeries know all about “remote and proximate preparation.” For the remote kind, that might mean bringing to a temporary halt the intake of certain medications or foods. The proximate kind most often involves fasting from food and drink, even water. Neither regimen is fun, but we accept it. Doctor knows best, right?

You could summarize our Scripture selections this weekend as examples of both kinds of preparation needed for our next life. You know the one I refer to; the one we do not think about enough. Life eternal with God.

Remotely it involves that elusive and challenging decision to be humble and take a long hard look at ourselves before God. He created us out of nothing and that is what we return to after death. That is the point that Ash Wednesday drives home every year.

Proximate preparation invites to acquire humility, which acts as a daily checkup on how well we apply this sense of what is “real” to our daily decisions. A daily honest appraisal of ourselves via a nighttime examination of conscience just before sleep.

We note the humble people being honored by the prophet Zephaniah in our First Reading. The “Anaheim” (AN uh ween) or devout poor among the Hebrews who stayed faithful to the Lord despite the pressure of the pagan atmosphere around them.

Then St. Paul, in his letter to the Corinthians boldly tells us that “God chooses the foolish (or humble) to shame the wise (or proud).” He adds in a caution to his readers about any intended boasting.

Finally, we hear the opening of the great Sermon on the Mount, when Jesus immediately praises the “poor in spirit.” Here He implies the humility of such persons. He thus brings to perfection the Old Covenant, which more often emphasized the external rather than the eternal.

We receive a triple dose of medicine, as today we need to be spiritually healthy. Humility is a key feature of the preparation we need for the Lenten season now just a few weeks away. Some people need a lot of help getting this, as a certain true story illustrates:

The “LA Times” newspaper published a story a few years ago about a commercial airline flight cancellation which resulted in a long line of travelers trying to get booked on another flight. One man in the line grew increasingly impatient with the slow-moving line. Suddenly he pushed his way to the front and angrily demanded a first-class ticket on the next available flight. “I’m sorry,” said the ticket agent, “but I’ll have to take care of the people who were ahead of you in the line.”

The irate man then pounded his fist on the ticket counter, saying, “Do you have any idea of who I am?” Whereupon the ticket agent picked up the public address microphone and said, “Attention please! There is a gentleman at the ticket counter who does not know who he is. If there is anyone in the airport who can identify him, please come to the counter.” Hearing this, the man retreated, and the people waiting in line burst into applause.

God love you and give you, His peace.

In Catholic school classrooms and religious education programs, nearly 80,000 students and their families encounter the Church - which often marks their first introduction to Jesus.

To deepen this education mission and work to connect it to parish life, we intend to add full-time missionaries to work in our grade and high schools to strengthen Catholic identity, help students and families become missionary disciples, and guide them toward a deeper encounter with Jesus in the Eucharist. We will also add dedicated development directors to schools without full-time staff in this role and support existing directors with enhanced training and resources to ensure financial sustainability and foster mission-driven stewardship. These leaders will secure vital funding sources, including Educational Improvement Tax Credits and other tuition assistance programs, to make Catholic education accessible to more families. Share your feedback on this important initiative by completing the planning study survey at: <https://forms.office.com/r/9fcs95U5B4> or scan the QR code.
