~ Prayer to Saint Michael ~

St. Michael the Archangel, defend us in battle. Be our defense against the wickedness and snares of the Devil. May God rebuke him, we humbly pray, and do thou, O Prince of the heavenly hosts, by the power of God, thrust into hell Satan, and all the evil spirits who prowl about the world seeking the ruin of souls. Amen.

32 Sunday in Ordinary Time

Introit: Let my prayer come into your presence. Incline your ear to my cry for help, O Lord.

First Reading: Wisdom 6:12-16

Responsorial Psalm: My sould is thirsting for you, O Lord my God.

Second Reading: 1 Thessalonians 4:13-18

Gospel: Matthew 25:1-13

MIRACLES HAPPEN HERE

We have seen as a recurring theme, that miracles often manifest as "being in the right place at the right time". God has a way of directing us, often through extreme circumstances, to be somewhere we ought not to be and miraculously exactly where we need to be at the exact moment we are needed. Such is the case with the following story.

From Mary Pollard a friend in the Syracuse diocese:

The weather was terrible – snow so heavy that tree branches were falling into the New Jersey roadways as we drove to the church for the funeral of our sister's father– in-law. After the funeral, I headed towards my Syracuse home. Traffic came to a full stop across all four lanes of the interstate. After about an hour of no movement at all, my car began to make the telltale sound indicating it was getting low on oil. I weighed my options. If traffic didn't start moving soon, my car would die. If I left the superhighway, how I didn't know, I might get stuck on an unplowed back road. So I sat for another hour. The noise intensifying, and the certainty of a gas station off the exit just behind me, I made the lawless decision to turn around and go off the on-ramp about a half mile to my rear. It was the right choice. The gas station was open. I got the oil and started home on a snowy secondary highway in gathering darkness. I was the only car on the road. Soon, I saw what looked like an abandoned pick-up truck on the right shoulder. It was just registering in my mind when a frantic young man leaped into the roadway almost in front of my van! Waving wildly, this kid was clearly in distress. Throwing caution to the wind (isn't this how those murder stories start?) I pulled over to ask him what was wrong. He desperately screamed that his girlfriend was back in that broken down pickup and she was giving birth! I bade him to jump in and as quickly as possible we made it the quarter mile back to his truck.

The girl was laboring hard, fear and pain written all over her face. I opened the side sliding door of the van and we used a floatation mattress I always keep in the car to get the girlfriend into the back. The girl screamed the directions to the hospital between contractions. Before long -though it felt like an eternity – we saw the emergency entrance to a small rural hospital. I drove right in and a staffer told me that entrance was only for emergency vehicles to which I responded, "This IS an emergency vehicle!" The boyfriend was out of the car and the nurses had the lady on a gurney in a flash. Then they were gone. To this day, I wonder if she had a girl or a boy… Whatever the case, I am grateful I had a part in that little one coming into the world in safety instead of in a blizzard in a broken down truck. God puts us where we need to be so that His Will may be done through us.

We would love to share your miracle stories. Please send them to conniemcilwain@hotmail.com
